

SENIOR DIRECTOR, CORPORATE COMMUNICATIONS

Vancouver, BC

WHO WE ARE

Vantage Airport Group is a privately owned, industry-leading investor, developer and manager of airports. Our current portfolio includes airports in Canada, the United States, Europe, and the Caribbean. Offering more than 20 years of experience, we have received international recognition in areas such as design, finance, operations and sustainability while delivering award-winning commercial programs and passenger experiences. Millions of passengers travel through the Vantage network on an annual basis and we are poised for continued growth.

THE OPPORTUNITY

The Senior Director, Corporate Communications provides leadership for all aspects of Vantage's corporate communications strategy. Reporting directly to the CEO, and playing a key advisory role to the leadership team, the Senior Director, Corporate Communications formulates and executes compelling communications and marketing programs that support Vantage's business, build brand awareness, and leverage success stories. This role serves as a strategic thought partner to the CEO by developing a consistent leadership voice, corporate story, and message platform from the perspective of investor, developer and manager, differentiating Vantage and highlighting our competitive advantage.

A seasoned leader with exemplary business acumen, the Senior Director, Corporate Communications will provide insightful contributions to Board reporting and investor communications by bringing a strategic outlook and understanding of business, financial, and risk management principles. This role fosters partnerships with the Board of Directors, network airport leaders and Vantage employees, and manages relationships with stakeholder groups. The Senior Director, Corporate Communications is a consummate professional and corporate ambassador, serving as the Company's primary media liaison and designated spokesperson.

At its foundation, this role requires business literacy. Our successful candidate will have demonstrable experience crafting value propositions, articulating key performance indicators, and delivering business and financial messaging to multiple constituencies. Our ideal candidate will thrive in a high pressure, high profile, corporate environment, have a minimum of 15 years' experience in communications, marketing or public relations roles, preferably in a decentralized, global milieu, and will have media expertise and political savvy. A superb writer, editor and presenter with excellent partnering and collaboration skills, the Senior Director, Corporate Communications will actively participate in Vantage's growth strategy and business planning activities, be able to lead through influence and have proven expertise in advising and working directly with senior executive leaders.

This role is based in our corporate head office in Vancouver, B.C., Canada, and frequent domestic and international travel is required, particularly throughout the United States. In addition to a competitive compensation and benefits package, career progression, and access to a global team of talented professionals, we are growing and offer boundless opportunities to make your mark. If you share our sense of adventure, come, and join us for the journey.
